Why: The Kodiak has now flown over 100 hours since October 16 and to date is meeting our design expectations. The Kodiak is now in Anchorage to be a featured attraction at the Alaska Trade Show next week and begin our Commercial Sales Program. We anticipate FAA Certification and full production beginning in early 2006.

Who: You are invited to come and be part of what God is doing to establish this amazing and crucial endeavor that will expand God's Kingdom through missions –worldwide –for many decades to come. You will not be sorry you came!
